Strike Protests Suspension Of Eight Teachers

NEW BALTIMORE, Mich. (AP) —Most of the 361 students of Anchor Bay High School struck Friday to protest the suspension of eight teachers and the firing of the principal.

The teachers were suspended without pay for one week, and principal Rudy Kamischke was fired because they wore black mourning arm bands after the election defeat of a teacher tenure proposal.

Classes continued on a reduced basis with 70 students in attendance and substitute teachers filling in for suspended members of the staff of 18.

Kamischke said they hoped to get a hearing before the Anchor Bay School Board through the Michigan State Labor Mediation Board.

Teachers of the Anchor Bay School District never have had the protection of tenure.

Voters of the district bordering on Lake St. Clair's Anchor Bay rejected a tenure proposal in a special election Wednesday by a vote of 835 to 310. Its approval would have made renewal of teacher contracts automatic after service of a two-year probationary period.
